The dark shadow of Chapquiddick continues to haunt Sen. Edward M. Kennedy. The parents of Mary Jo Kopechne say they are no longer sure they can accept Kennedy's version of their daughter's death. Kennedy, who recently has been observed in the steady company of a shapely blonde, identified as Page Lee Hufty, contends the death of Miss Kopechne was accidental. However, several eye witnesses to events surrounding her death say Kennedy's story cannot be supported by the facts.

Black U.S. Representatives, who denied membership in the Black Caucus to white Representative, Portney H. (Pete) Stork, (Dem., Calif.), have drawn the attention of white conservatives. The white critics contend liberals apply a "double standard" to racial issues in the country. "If white Congressman had denied a black Congressman membership in a 'White Caucus' or even formed a White Caucus, the liberal media would have branded them as 'bigots' and 'racists'," one critic complained. "Middle-class whites," he continued, "are beginning to see the national news media for just what it is--a huge propaganda machine of the liberal elite."

Wallace supporters say that "get tough with criminals" speeches such as that recently delivered by President Ford, are "too little, too late." "Everyone suddenly is ready to start cracking down on criminals--but why did it take them so long?" a Mid-West Wallace supporter asked rhetorically.

Developments in Communist-controlled Portugal are an indication that a totalitarian state will be established. Since the Communist takeover in April, 1974, individual rights have been abolished in the areas of property ownership and political participation. The Catholic bishops of Portugal have warned that the country is "on the road to... totalitarianism."

COURT-ORDERED INTEGRATION A FAILURE

Prof. James S. Coleman, author of the "Coleman Report" in 1966, which has been cited widely to justify school integration plans and is still frequently cited by courts when they hand down desegregation orders, says the federal courts have gone too far.

Prof. Coleman, a sociologist at the University of Chicago said that in imposing integration plans, including forced busing, federal judges might create more segregation than they eliminate. He said that court-ordered school integration is a failure outside the South and that public schools are becoming more segregated.

In his statements, which were widely publicized throughout the nation in May and June, Prof. Coleman said that a new study he is preparing shows that "white flight" to the suburbs to avoid court-ordered school integration is resulting in "a general resegregation in all regions of the country."

"The courts made a fundamental mistake by being more sociological than constitutional," he said in an interview. He thinks the courts have erred by going beyond what he sees as their constitutional duty to eliminate segregation produced by governmental action.

Coleman's 1966 study, which was financed and published by the federal government, presented findings that low-income minority students allegedly perform better academically if they go to school in an integrated, more middle class situation.

But recently, Dr. Coleman has grown apprehensive about the uses to which his findings in that report have been put, even though he still supports racial integration. In his view, the courts have overstepped their bounds with mandatory busing.

In his new study, Coleman used federal statistics comparing school integration in 1968 with that of 1973 in the nation's 70 largest school districts. He surveyed 12,000 schools districts.

Dr. Coleman said that even metropolitan-wide court-ordered integration would not work because whites, fearful of disorder, would place their children in private schools, Coleman not only blamed racial prejudice but lack of discipline by inner city black students plus overreaching of judicial power for increasing school segregation.

Coleman believes that part of the reason whites in large cities flee integration is that they feel they have

Leftist Justice Douglas May Be Forced To Resign

The leading left-wing liberal Justice, William O. Douglas, on the U.S. Supreme Court "may eventually be forced to resign," according to a Los Angeles Times report carried nationwide on June 13.

Supreme Court justices are worried that Justice Douglas, who suffered a stroke more than five months ago, can no longer perform his duties properly, and there are questions about his mental condition, according to the Times report.

"One justice told the Times that some members of the court were growing uneasy about Douglas voting in cases he had never heard argued," the newspaper said.

"They suspect that he may not have either the time or the stamina to read all the petitions, briefs and opinions presented to him and is instead delegating many of his responsibilities" to clerks and assistants, violating a Supreme Court principle, the Times said.

Douglas, 76 years old, suffered a stroke Dec. 31, 1974 that immobilized the entire left side of his body, and he still cannot walk. There are indications that Douglas probably will never recover completely from the stroke, the Times said. In addition, Douglas has a heart pacemaker, which is "getting pretty old" and may have to be replaced.

During Douglas's absence, his secretaries and clerks fly to New York several times a week to bring him court documents to read while he remains in the Institute for Rehabilitation Medicine of New York University. Because of his demanding therapy schedule, Douglas has little time to read drafts or to confer with his colleagues, the Times said. Justice William J. Brennan Jr. goes to New York to get Douglas's opinions to relay to the rest of the Court.

Douglas's five month absence has clearly upset the work of the court this term, slowing down the production of opinions and snarling the court's usual efficient daily operations, the Times said. The court has been unable to release many cases, because every opinion must be approved by all the justices who support it. Within the court, the word is that Douglas has not been able to shoulder his share of opinion writing, thus adding to the burden on each of the other justices. That would partially explain the court's current backlog, according to the report.

Douglas's contributions have been both infrequent and brief: Two paragraphs of dissenting opinions, one paragraph of concurrences, single sentences noting only that "Mr. Justice Douglas dissents," without explaining why. For two months this spring, between late March and late May, he produced nothing, the Times article said.

"So far, his colleagues have good-naturedly tolerated the confusion and occasional inconvenience caused by his absence, out of friendship and respect for Douglas, but the good humor is said to be on the wane," the newspaper said.

Racial Job Quotas Ordered for St. Louis Fire Fighters

United States District Judge John F. Nangle of St. Louis, Mo. on June 16, ordered the City of St. Louis to hire black firemen on a one for one basis until the racial make-up of the Fire Department reflects the make-up of the City's work force.

The order is the result of a lawsuit filed by the U.S. Dept. of Justice against the City of St. Louis on March 18, 1974. This lawsuit demanded the hiring of three blacks for each white until the "racial balance" of the department approximates that of the city.

Another Example of African "Culture"

The Interior Minister of Dahomey in West Africa was shot to death by members of the presidential guard Friday night, June 20, 1975, after he was found committing adultery with the wife of that African nation's President Mathieu Kerekou, it was reported on the state radio the next day.

The radio broadcast reported that President Kerekou had been alerted that his wife was at the home of Capt. Michel Ailpe, Dahomey's Minister of Interior and Security.

It said President Kerekou went to the house with his presidential guard.

The broadcast said the guards broke down the door when the occupants of the house refused to open it, and that Kerekou saw for himself that his wife was there with Capt. Aikpe.

The fate of President Kerekou's wife was not announced.

This is just another example of the farce made of government in the black ruled nations in Africa.

Missouri Legislature Again Rejects ERA

The "Equal Rights Amendment" (ERA) to the U.S. Constitution was voted down for the third time by the Missouri Legislature on June 2nd, when the Missouri Senate voted 20-14 against the measure.

The proposal had passed the Missouri House by a vote of 82-75, the minimum votes necessary to ratify. It had been defeated in the House the two previous years.

The defeat of the proposed amendment was due largely to the lobbying activities of anti-ERA groups (mostly women) from throughout the state who went to Jefferson City on Feb. 11 and 18 to lobby against it.

The central theme of the lobbying effort was that women would lose more than they would gain if ERA is adopted. Most of the women said that they enjoyed being women and don't want to be "equal" with men. One lady said "I don't want to be 'equal' like Betty Ford. If she (Betty Ford) would spend more time, being a wife and taking care of her husband, instead of sticking her nose into this, spending our tax money on phone calls to our representatives to pressure them to vote against our best interest, we would all be a lot better off."

HEW Orders Gym Classes To Be Sexually Integrated

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare ruled in Washington, D.C. on June 3 that physical education classes must be sexually integrated in any school that receives federal aid. The ruling applies to most public schools from kindergarten through graduate level.

The rules are an extension of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 which forbids "sexual discrimination" in federally financed school programs.

The proposed regulations were published in the Federal Register on June 4th as Executive Orders. By means of a little known and less understood law, members of the Executive branch can issue rulings, publish them in the Federal Register and, if Congress does not over-rule them within 45 days, the rulings become law.

Congress has until July 19 to act upon this ruling. Comments may also be made to the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare until that date.

H.E.W. further ruled that health education classes may not be segregated by sex. Classes in sex education may be so segregated.

Separate locker rooms, toilets and showers would be permitted!

LITTON ANTI-WALLACE

U.S. Rep. Jerry Litton has seriously damaged his chances of winning the Democratic primary for U.S. Senator in Missouri by taking a strong anti-Wallace stand.

Litton, who pretends to be somewhat conservative on some issues, says that he would oppose a Wallace nomination for President or Vice-President, according to an article in the June 23 St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Jerry L. Litton, who represents the Sixth U.S. Congressional District in Northwest Missouri, is a rich cattle farmer.

Litton's expected opponents in the race for the Senate seat being vacated in 1976 by Sen. Stuart Symington are former-Governor Warren Hearnes and Rep. James Symington.

Rep. Jerry Litton

Regional Presidential Primaries Proposed

U.S. Senator Robert C. Packwood (Rep., Oregon) introduced legislation the latter part of May that would provide for five regional presidential primary elections in 1976.

Under his bill, regional primaries would be held in the West, the agricultural Midwest, the industrial Midwest, the South, and the Northeast. The primaries would be held in five consecutive months, March through July, with the Federal Election Committee determining the order by lot.

Also, under the bill, all nationally recognized presidential candidates would be listed on the ballot, unless a person stated in writing that he or she was not and did not intend to become a candidate.

Any candidate who received 5 per cent of the regional vote would be able to appoint delegates to the convention. The number would be proportional to the percentage of the vote the candidate received in each state. A delegate to the party convention would be bound to the candidate for two ballots unless the candidate failed to receive 20 per cent of the vote on a ballot or released his delegates.

Sen. Packwood rejected the alternative of a national primary, asserting, "A candidate could be in Los Angeles today, New York tomorrow, and Florida a day later. The Pendleton, Oregon, and the Keokuk, Iowa would never see the candidate."

Presently, at least 30 states plan to hold presidential primary elections next year. New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and possibly Vermont may have theirs in the same period. Oregon, Idaho and Nevada have agreed to hold a joint regional primary May 25. Other presidential primaries are scattered over the calendar.

Anti-Wallace Politicians Will "Reap the Whirlwind"

Over the past several months the American public has witnessed the tremendous pressure that is being brought to bear on political figures within the Democratic party by the left-wing and powers-that-be in their frantic effort to stop Wallace's growing popularity.

A growing number of major elected Democratic office holders, due to both jealousy and pressure being exerted on them, are openly stating their opposition to Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama obtaining the Democratic party's nomination for President.

However, their zeal to stop Wallace may develop into one of the biggest blunders in American political history. Not only will their fanatic opposition to him probably increase Wallace's popularity, but these politicians may well "have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind."

Wallace supporters constitute a majority in most of the South, and in many parts of the Midwest, the industrial urban areas and conservative rural regions. By 1976, they possibly will constitute a majority in almost every state of the union.

By opposing Wallace, his supporters will take this as opposition to them and their interests. They are sophisticated enough now to realize that the reason the powers-that-be oppose Wallace is that they can't control him. Wallace only owes loyalty to the people!

And, when these politicians who have attacked Wallace run for re-election or a higher office they may find all those Wallace supporters among their constituents standing at the polls eager to "vote the rascals out."

FROM THE FIELD

DIRECTOR'S DESK

There now exists great potential for developing massive organization in white communities throughout the nation.

Community after community is coming under federal court desegregation decrees and busing orders - Boston, Detroit, Louisville, Kansas City - and smaller cities throughout the nation.

The public (government) school systems are crumbling. Private schools are under attack. Crime spirals upward. Inflation. Unemployment. Reverse discrimination. Racial job quotas. Run-away federal spending. Welfare abuses.

In short -- more and more white Americans are coming face-to-face with the problems. Thereby, they are being forced to learn the truth.

The truth being that the white majority will be ignored by most of their elected officials and government bureaucrats and will continue to suffer discrimination until they get better organized.

The Citizens' Council is doing as much as it can to help organize. But, we need your help.

Are you already a member of the Council? Well - put on the old "thinking cap" and come up with some names of persons you know who might be interested in joining. Give them to your local Citizens' Council or field-representative so they can be sent information or contacted.

If you aren't already a member, don't you think it's time to join with us? Join your local Citizens' Council! If there isn't one in your area, let us know and we'll help you get one started.

Organization is the key to victory!

MO. RESTORES

DEATH PENALTY

The Missouri Legislature passed a new capital punishment bill that requires the death penalty if a person 'unlawfully, willfully, knowingly, deliberately and with premeditation kills or causes the killing of a human being.'

Although the bill has been passed, debate concerning it continues. Opponents say that it will never stand a court test because it allows discretion in the application of the death penalty--the principal reason that the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated existing capital punishment laws in 1972. Proponents disagree and say it will meet a constitutional test.

With Gov. Bond's signing of the bill into law on June 23, Missouri became the 33rd state to re-instate capital punishment since the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1972 that the death penalty, as then applied, was unconstitutional.

Death Penalty Proves Deterrent

Every time a state executes a person for murder; seven or eight future murders may be prevented through deterrence, it was found in a recent study by the University of Chicago.

The study by Isaac Ehrlich, associate Professor in the graduate business school, was published nationwide on June 4, 1975.

Other findings of the study included:

-Would-be murderers may be deterred by various law enforcement instruments, including the prospect of execution.

-In "broad statistical terms," one execution in the period studied may have prevented as many as seven or eight murders.

-A specific execution does not automatically prevent seven or eight murders. However, the impact of a single execution "may be considerably smaller or larger."

-Potential murderers seem to be deterred by the risk of being apprehended as well as the further risk of being convicted.

-Both capital punishment and imprisonment exert "a unique deterrent effect."

Academies Defended

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to the recent letter from the president of the Jackson Area Council on Human Relations in which he criticizes the private school system for selling the idea that education and integration can't go hand in hand and then asks the question of who has been educating Mississippians for a longer time, public schools or segregated academies?

Let's look at a few facts: First, the public schools of Los Angeles report one "gun incident" every other day, second, since integration so many Birmingham school officials have to carry guns for self-defense that the school superintendent had to issue licenses.

How about some Mississippi facts? In a Delta public school in one school term the following happened: One, a white girl was dragged out of study hall by a negro in a rape attempt.

Two, one girl stabbed another in the school corridor, three, one student shot another at a basketball game. These incidents made the local newspaper.

Need some more on these fine integrated schools? In North Mississippi in this past school year a negro football coach from a fine integrated school was fired because he was caught after school in a motel room with two white high school girls he taught.

I agree that the public schools educated up until integration but only the private academies offer a superior educational product now.

I close with this question, if public schools are so superior why are the liberals trying to force the enactment of compulsory school attendance to make students attend them?

Address To Members Tidewater Citizens Council

To members of the Tidewater Citizens' Council (Chesapeake, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Virginia Beach, Virginia):

Friends,

Society has but two ways in which it influence citizens to do right and to do good.

First, we can talk things over with both sides giving attention to what is and has been proven good for all times, until there is an agreement. Then no wrong doing will result once the individual understands.

The second way is the 'way of punishment.' The best of the early thinkers knew that punishment is the natural consequence of wrong doing and error. Without punishment, the individual would destroy himself. Fire could consume him. A sharp edge could cause bleeding to death. A mound of earth, not held up by solid support, could bury him alive. Right thought convictions save each of us. We have sound convictions in relation to many things.

For the awful and terrible wrong doings (crimes) which we all hear about too often there must be fear of punishment all the way -- death. The threat has to be real -- as real as getting seriously burned is real to one who ignores the truth that fire burns.

A wrong-doer needs this fear so that he will do right because he fears the punishment of wrong doing rather than because he wants right thinking to guide him.

Let the certainty of punishment by death be known everywhere as an unalterable consequence of murder and crimes of terror so that fear where it is needed will be a real thing.

The righteous citizens should not need to fear. Being that his property is a right to be forever maintained, do not ever deprive the citizen of the ownership of weapons and their ammunition. Let each citizen, though not necessarily known as the possessor of a gun, be at least feared because he may have a weapon handy which he could use against an intruder. Always be aware that the threat of death is the best way to deter crimes which destroy life and property.

Eating of the 'tree of the knowledge of both good and evil' was to make one surely die. No law which man makes can change this.

Metro-South Initiates Action To Improve Ambulance Service in the City of St. Louis

Poor ambulance service in the City of St. Louis was brought to the attention of the Board of Alderman in a June 3, 1975 letter from Mrs. Helen Creel, Co-Chairman of the Public Affairs Committee of Metro-South Citizens' Council.

In the June 3 letter to Alderman Alfred J. Giuffrida, who is Chairman of the Aldermanic Public Welfare Committee, Mrs. Creel cited a personal experience involving her attempt to aid a neighbor who needed ambulance service. Mrs. Creel stated that it took nearly an hour to get her neighbor to the hospital. One of the major reasons for the long delay, Mrs. Creel said, was the refusal of the City's ambulance service to take the individual to the hospital where her doctor is on the staff. Mrs. Creel, on behalf of the Directors of Metro-South, requested that the City's policy on ambulance service be changed to allow persons to be taken to their own hospitals.

Ironically, a week after Alderman Giuffrida received Metro-South's letter, he had an experience similar to Mrs. Creel, when his next-door neighbor required ambulance service. He had to personally intervene in order to get his neighbor taken to his own hospital by the city ambulance. The incident was given T.V. coverage and aldermanic hearings are now being held to revise the City's policies on ambulance service.

Alderman Giuffrida has consistently shown a willingness to work on problems affecting the average citizens, Metro-South members said, and they expect that the aldermanic hearings will result in a proper policy.

FAIRNESS in BROADCASTING

Committee

Report

The Fairness in Broadcasting Committee of the Citizens' Council - St. Louis area and members of local Councils had a few good opportunities since last month's report to present their views to the public. However, we could do even better if we had even greater assistance from Council members.

Purpose

The goal and purpose of the Fairness in Broadcasting Committee is to assure that broadcasting stations adhere to the federal "fairness doctrine" - that TV and radio present their audiences with both sides of controversial issues of public importance. More specifically, that the views of the white majority community be given an opportunity to be expressed.

Activities

Following are some of the Committee's recent activities:

On Sunday morning, May 25, 1975 on KXOK radio in St. Louis; from 9:00 to 9:30 a.m.; Gary Black of the Central-Illinois Citizens' Council and area Citizens' Council Field-Director Gordon Lee Baum were the guests on the public affairs program, "Wake Up St. Louis." They were interviewed by the station's news director Robert R. Linn about the Council's opposition to forced busing and the situation in Boston brought about by the forced busing of public school children for racial integration. Gary, a 16-year-old high school student from Belleville, Ill., and Field-Dir. Baum had both been in Boston recently.

They were invited on the program to present their contrasting views to those given on an earlier program by a pro-busing black militant from Boston.

On Sunday night, June 22, on KPLR-TV, Channel 11 in St. Louis; Robert Bledsoe, Membership and Finance Committee chairman of the Central-Illinois Citizens' Council, was a guest on the "Soapbox" program, broadcast from 12:30 to 1:00 a.m., to discuss that Council's opposition to gun control and gun confiscation laws. He explained that such laws would not only violate Constitutionally protected freedoms but would also leave the law-abiding citizens without defense. A majority of listeners who called in during the call-in portion of the program agreed with Bledsoe's position.

On Wednesday evening, June 25, on KMOX-TV, Channel 4, CBS owned outlet in St. Louis; at the end of the 5:00 p.m. newscasts; St. Louis area Citizens' Council Field-Secretary Marvin M. McEwen delivered a reply to an earlier station editorial favoring "gun control." In his reply, McEwen stated that the Council was opposed to gun control and gun confiscation laws. He pointed out that "the criminal and hoodlum element are certainly not going to turn in their guns or abide by another gun law if they won't abide by the 20,000 laws now on the books." He concluded by saying, "The primary responsibility of government is to protect its citizens. Our government is failing in that responsibility. Would it also rob its citizens of the ability to protect themselves?"

Judge Meredith Orders Immediate School Merger

United States District Judge James H. Meredith issued a judicial order in St. Louis, Mo., June 7, that calls for the immediate merger of the St. Louis County suburban school districts of Kinloch, Berkeley, and Ferguson-Florissant to integrate the all-black Kinloch schools with the other districts.

The immediate merger is an administrative one. Judge Meredith allowed the new district a year to prepare for the forced racial integration of students and faculty. He said that the district must be racially integrated according to a plan submitted by the Missouri Dept. of Education by the beginning of the 1976-1977 school year.

All three districts had appealed Judge Meredith's January ruling that ordered the merger and set a tax rate of $6.03 per $100.00 assessed valuation. The appeals court upheld all of the Meredith ruling except the tax rate, judging it to be too high. It recommended the present Ferguson-Florissant rate of $5.38, the highest of the three districts.

The new district would be approximately 17 per cent black and have about 22,800 students. Forty-three per cent of the pupils would be bused.

All three districts are appealing the decision to the U.S. Supreme Court.

CONSERVATIVE NEGRO SPEAKS OUT

By Art Wuig

While listening to KMOX radio in St. Louis, Mo. about 10:15, May 27 the announcer said the station had been contacted by a listener who stated that he was a Conservative Negro and he was tired of hearing just the views of the radical and liberal Negroes on radio and television, and he thought it was time that the broadcasters began broadcasting the views of the Conservative Negroes who vastly outnumbered the Negro radicals and liberals. He mentioned having heard the broadcast a week or so earlier when two Citizens Council representatives, Field-Director Gordon Baum and Gary Black of the Central-Illinois Council, had debated two black liberal activist on busing.

About an hour later at 11:15 P.M. the station broadcast an interview with this Negro Conservative, Rev. Donald Jackson of Buffalo, New York. I would guess that the "ole, Reverend" shocked all the dedicated liberals, black or white, right out of their shoes. Rev. Jackson said he had met and admired Governor Wallace, and he has done a tremendous job as Governor of Alabama.

Rev. Jackson blasted the Civil Rights movement, Martin L. King, the Welfare programs and just about everything else near and dear to the hearts of all true liberals; including the NAACP, and the big, tax free foundations. He said these tax free foundations come into a community, seek out the liberal and radical Negroes, arrange for them to get time on the air, and their views published in the newspapers. This is done to convince the general public and the government officials that these radical Negroes represent the Negro community, and they are the authentic voice of the minorities. Meanwhile the Foundations, the Newspapers, the radio and television stations and the government ignores the Conservative Negro, who Rev. Jackson claims are in the majority in the Negro Community.

He stated that the American Blacks, despite all their complaining and protesting, are the most affluent blacks on earth. The 22 million blacks in America own more Buicks, Lincoln Continentals and Cadillacs than all of the rest of the blacks in the whole world. There is more opportunity for Blacks to make a success of their lives in this country than anywhere else on earth, but they have to work for it. They can't make a success of themselves by being on welfare, or constantly marching, protesting or demonstrating.

Jackson stated that the Blacks in this country were being manipulated and used by the White liberals and left-wingers to advance causes and programs dear to the heart of the Socialists. He said the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) was controlled and headed by White people. In its long history the NAACP has never had a black for a president, the president of the NAACP has always been a White of Jewish extraction. He cited other cases where the masses of blacks were used by White Ultra-Left Wingers and fellow blacks for the advantage of the people manipulating the blacks. He cited the Scottsboro case and the Emmett Till case; he said $5,000,000 was raised in the one case and over $1,000,000 in the other case. But none of this money went to the people it was supposedly raised for, all of it went to the promoters of "the cause." (Ed. Note--This confirms what was noted when the Liberal Clergy in St. Louis and Belleville, Ill. were raising money for the "poor" blacks in Cairo, Ill. in "their struggle." Substantial sums of money were raised around St. Louis, but somehow most of these funds never reached the "poor" blacks in Cairo.)

Rev. Jackson said that the White and Black radicals take delight in blasting George Wallace and the State of Alabama, but according to official records there are more wealthy and affluent Negroes living in Alabama than there are in any other section of the country.

High Court Black Jacks Black Jack

On June 23, the U.S. Supreme Court refused to accept for review a decision of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals that the Black Jack, Missouri zoning law that states only single family homes could be built within the city limits is racially discriminatory and therefore invalid.

This refusal by the Supreme Court lets stand the decision that the effect of the zoning law was discriminatory even if its intent was not. The Appeals Court said that regardless of intent, the effect of the ordinance was to prevent 85 percent of area blacks from living in Black Jack.

Does George Meany Still Speak For Labor?

By Art Wuigk

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, made an announcement on June 17, 1975, which was carried by the news media nationally, that in his opinion it would be a disaster if Gov. George Wallace of Alabama secured the Democratic nomination for President, and Meany said he was going to use the power of organized labor in the Democratic Party to 'stop Wallace.' He also said he was going to instruct all union members to vote against Wallace and to work for his defeat.

We think the Labor union members who object to Mr. Meany dictating how they should vote (and also using the Labor Union movement to stop the candidacy of a man who many Labor Union members are supporting) should do something about this situation besides just griping to one another about it.

We think they should write a letter to the editor of their local newspaper stating that Mr. Meany has neither the power nor the authority to 'swing' the vote of the laboring man to a certain candidate. This was proven conclusively in the 1972 elections when Labor Union members refused to support George McGovern for president even though he had the endorsement of most labor unions. The average labor union member resents their national officers endorsing candidates and pretending they speak for everyone in the union and trying to dictate how they should vote.

It might be a good idea to make a carbon copy or two of your letter to the editor and send a copy to your union newspaper, and perhaps another copy to: Mr. George Meany, President AFL-CIO, 815 16th St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006. And if you have any additional copies you might send one to this paper also.

It is about time the average labor union member let their officials know that they are fed up with such officials usurping their authority as union officers when they try to use the Labor Unions for their own political purposes. We are tired of the union officials treating us as if we do not have enough sense to know who to vote for, especially when we note some of the candidates they have endorsed and supported in the past.

For additional information in regards to dealing with your Labor Union and its officials please refer to the report on Page 7 of the UNION LABOR MEMBERS POLITICAL ACTION COMMITTEE in the June 1975 edition of the CITIZENS INFORMER. If you have misplaced your copy send 10¢ to this newspaper and we will see that you get a copy of that article little control over a big city school system. That feeling of impotence increases if children must attend schools at some distance from their homes, he said.

'In other words, a large portion of the white flight has to do with the unresponsiveness of large school systems, with the whole question of order and discipline in the schools, and with an undifferentiated sense of fear of disorder,' he said.

The flight characterizes not only large Northern cities but also large Southern cities such as New Orleans and Memphis. In Memphis, 43 per cent of the white pupils vanished - into the suburbs or private schools. 'Atlanta, in fact, had the (nation's) largest white exodus in the period of 1970 to 1973,' Coleman said. Coleman predicts precisely the same fate for large Northern cities such as Boston, Denver and Detroit where large scale busing has only recently begun.

Dr. Coleman's analysis led him to conclude that a 5 per cent increase in the number of blacks in the average white city child's classroom during 1968 through 1970 led to 10 per cent of the white school population leaving the city system in the next three years.

'The most important result of this research is that the desegregation actions of the courts in larger cities have been such as to speed that process by which central cities become black and whites flee to the suburbs,' Coleman stated.

The findings of Coleman's new report came as no surprise to the millions of white Americans who have been forced out of the large cities by forced racial integration and black violence in the schools.

There is no wisdom like frankness.

SENIORITY SYSTEM DEFENDED

The following news release was sent to union papers throughout the nation by the Union Labor Members Political Action Committee of the Citizens' Councils in the St. Louis area on June 16, 1975:

'We, the members of the Union Labor Members Political Action Committee, which is composed of members and officers of 23 different Labor Unions in the St. Louis area, vehemently protest any changes in the present seniority system which prevails all across this nation in labor union contracts and labor relations.

'We strongly oppose any changes, court orders or decrees which will give preferential treatment, or 'super seniority' to Blacks or other favored minorities. To do so would be to discriminate against older employees who have given many years of faithful service to their employers, and destroy long established rules and customs. Prudence, indeed, dictates that customs and traditions long established should not be changed for light and transient causes.

'If our Courts continue to usurp their proper authority in trying to uproot cherished customs and honored traditions by their unconstitutional decrees, in due time they will learn that the American working people will voluntarily give up another of their old and honored traditions - that is of peacefully abiding by rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court. There is growing evidence that a substantial number of good, honest, loyal citizens have already decided to stop respecting or obeying rulings of the Supreme Court.'

Signed by Fred C. Jennings (District 837 IAMAW) and James T. McBroom (UAW 136) for the Union Labor Members Political Action Committee.

From the Editor's Desk —

MINUS ONE YEAR

Minus one year and counting. In today's space age terminology, it is now one year until our National 200th Birthday--the celebration of that day--July 4, 1776, when a group of courageous men proclaimed to the world--that men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Thus they presented to the world a new concept. That government is created to protect the rights and freedoms of the citizens; that government is the servant of the people--not the master--as had been the case for thousands of years previously, when rulers ruled their subjects by "The Divine Right of Kings," wherein they claimed to derive their power from the Will of God. To disobey the Kingly authority was not only a crime but a Mortal Sin, so not many people dared to challenge this authority.

That band of 56 men, who laid their lives on the line for this principle and mutually pledged to each other their Lives, their Fortunes and their sacred Honor, gave to the world a new idea in government. This idea caught on and spread, in varying degrees, around the world.

Under this concept of Freedom and Liberty, America grew to be the greatest nation, not only in the contemporary world but in the history of the world.

Our personal Liberties and National Greatness started to erode under the New Deal when we lost confidence in our ability to do things for ourselves and started looking to Washington, D.C. to do things for us. The Washington Burrocrats were more than happy to take over the job of making our decisions and spending our money.

Unfortunately, Burrocracy is a cancer that feeds upon itself to grow, demanding ever increasing nourishment of money and power. This nourishment has allowed the Federal Burrocracy to usurp and assume powers over the daily lives of our citizens that our Founding Fathers never intended. If the present trend continues, it will not be long before we will have to get a federal permit to go to the bathroom (water pollution, you know!)

But the trend will not continue. In fact, it has already started to be reversed and will continue to be reversed as more and more people get fed up with Federal dictation and demand a return to Constitutional government.

The straw that broke the camel's back in the matter of Federal interference in things that are none of its business may have come on June 3 when the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare ruled that physical education classes in any school or college that receives federal funds (which means virtually every public school and most of the colleges in the nation) must be sexually integrated.

According to the order, separate locker rooms, toilets, and showers will be permitted. However, inasmuch as the Supreme Court has already ruled that "separate but equal facilities are inherently unequal" when based on race; what is there to make us think that they wouldn't rule the same way if and when some "libber" group that thinks there is no difference between sexes brings a lawsuit to outlaw this "discrimination?"

THERE IS SOME HOPE CONCERNING THIS IDIOCY! These rules were published in the Federal Register on June 4. Congress has 45 days (July 19) to veto these rules. SO, LET YOUR CONGRESSMAN AND SENATORS KNOW HOW YOU FEEL ABOUT CO-EDUCATIONAL GYM CLASSES. CONGRESS CAN STOP THIS IDIOCY. INSIST THAT IT DO SO.

Boston Update

Dear Editor & Field-Director
Gordon Baum:

I suppose by this time you have information about Boston's Phase 2 of forced integration, but I feel I must write.

We here in Boston feel that this is the end of our city as we have known it for all of our lives. A rapid flight by our white citizens is now eminent, following along the line of Denver, Detroit, and so many other magnificent American cities.

The abandonment that must have been felt by the people in the Southern states is now upon us. Not all of Boston was in sympathy to the cause of so-called "civil rights" workers who invaded Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas, and the others. By our resistance alone, you know the position of South Boston's 38,000 residents.

5 of our community schools are being closed down permanently, and our high school is about to be closed too. The leaders of the anti-busing movement are being summoned to federal court by Judge Garrity, by request of the N.A.A.C.P., to be silenced by court order. Police are being doubled in number in South Boston, both city police and state police, to prevent further opposition and resistance. All that is left to do is bring in the U.S. Airborne troops, and blood will surely run in our streets.

Perhaps when all of America has blood running in its streets, we can stop this insanity, this full scale rush toward socialism.

Our once proud court system is full of decay and dead rot at present, so a battle for rights within the courts is hopeless.

I am, like my neighbors, disheartened but not defeated. Enclosed are a few newspaper accounts of events of the last 2 months in Boston. Use them to their fullest to spread the word.

Keep in touch. I enjoy the CITIZENS INFORMER newspaper and the Council's monthly national THE CITIZEN publication. You're doing a fine job.

"Human Kindness"

To the Editor:

Did you read an account in our "free press" about the celebration on May 10 of "Human Kindness Day" in Washington D.C.? (The "Show Case of Integration"). I didn't. If it was in our newspapers, I missed it.

There was a short account of this event in "Human Events" (June 7) and "U.S. News & World Report" (June 2 issue) from which came the following notes and quotes:

On May 10th about 125,000 people gathered at the Washington Monument. D.C. being 70% or more black, the crowd was of course predominantly black. Negro youths in gangs of up to 100 or more roved about, demonstrating "Human Kindness" with such incidents as follows: Nearly 600 persons were assaulted or robbed, or both; One man lost an eye by stabbing; A 55 year-old man and his wife, working at an arts and crafts booth, were beaten and robbed of their cash box; A pregnant woman was grabbed by a negro youth who pointed a knife at her abdomen and demanded her husband's wallet, "Or I'll kill the baby." He got the wallet.

A young man trying to regain his wallet was beaten in the face and knocked unconscious with a club; Two teen-age girls were beaten and kicked in the head; A young man with a bicycle was surrounded and hit with bottles while his bicycle was stolen; Purses and cameras by the score were "snatched"; A woman was robbed by five youths, who chased her with obscene taunts. "From the looks on the faces of the people (black) she reported. 'They seemed to think I was getting my just deserts.'"; "The whole crowd was watching, and nobody lifted a hand" said a young man whose girl-friend's halter-top was torn away by five blacks who attacked him and stole his money; A woman and her mother were robbed of $300. At least 300 people required treatment at hospitals or first-aid stations.

These, of course, were only a few of the hundreds of "Human Kindness" incidents that occurred. 300 park police and scores of volunteer marshals were unable to protect the relatively few whites in the mostly black crowd, or to catch many of the offenders. Only 18 arrests were made. A "Rock" concert, feature of the event, had to be cut short to end the violence.

This display of "Human Kindness" has started some "Soul Searching" among black leaders in our Capitol. They are also concerned about what might happen to tourists expected for the Bicentennial Celebration in 1976.

One rather unkind observation comes to mind. It would seem that by this time, whites would be aware of the mentality of most blacks, and would realize that if they ventured into such a jungle situation, they were almost asking for what they got - or at least making themselves vulnerable.

If the situation had been reversed, and a crowd of whites had beaten and robbed a minority of blacks, don't you think the news would have been spread all over the front page of our "free press", with additional pictures in the picture section?

Letters To The Editor

"My Side OF Coin"

Dear Editor:

I am thankful that someone sent me the June issue of the "Citizens Informer." It has been a long time since I saw a paper I agree with 100%. You say the same things I've been saying, only better. If I were a man of means a lot of people would start receiving your paper but I'm not.

I am enclosing $3.00 for my subscription and I'll try to boost your paper. As a matter of fact I have already pinned your editorial to the bulletin board at the plant where I work in Shreveport, with subscription blank attached. I hope this will help some.

I hope you enjoy "My Side of the Coin." It may be a little out of date now, but this book was going great until Gov. Wallace was shot. After that, sales dropped sharply and I was caught with a couple of thousand copies on hand. I still have several hundred copies that I'd like to move. If by chance, you are interested and could use 80 or more copies (they are packaged in boxes of 80), I'd like you have them for the exact printing cost of 32¢ per copy. (I'll pay the postage or freight.) For 10-79 copies, 50¢ per copy. I sell single copies for $1.00 post paid.

I am a strong believer in "Letters to the Editor." Enclosed are a few clippings that have been laying around on my desk; use them if you see fit. Thanks again for a wonderful paper.

With Best Wishes,

Boston Police State

Dear Editor:

Thank you very much for the extra copies of your wonderful paper. My friends keep asking me for a copy of your paper. They enjoy reading it.

A lot has taken place here in Boston since the 3rd of May; that was the day that the P.L.P. (Progressive Labor Party), Communist Goon Squad, was going to march into South Boston to teach us "racists" a lesson. They got the surprise of their life when they met our young people who went after them and gave them a good thrashing. I am enclosing some clippings which you should enjoy reading.

On May 8, violence erupted at the South Boston High School when a black student allegedly walked the corridors with a P.L.P. flag wrapped around him. A fight broke out between him and a white student which led to the gathering outside of concerned parents.

On Saturday, May 10, Rita Grau, and Virginia Sheehy (leaders of the antibusing group ROAR) were subpoenaed by Judge Garrity and the NAACP to appear in court as to their activities concerning what happened during the week. How strange that a Boston Globe newspaper photographer should accompany a U.S. Marshal when he serves a subpoena!

It look like the day of the Police State has finally arrived. The people here are really riled up with what's going on.

That's about all I got to say for now. Thanks again for the extra copies of your paper.

Panama Canal

To the Editor:

President Ford assured us on April 29 that he would not support any new Panama Canal treaty that "would not protect our vital interests."

Senator Harry Byrd, Jr. (Independent-Va.) in a major Senate speech on May 15, immediately after our disastrous debacle in Vietnam, among other serious international problems, stated:

"In Latin America, Secretary of State Kissinger has committed the Nation to a treaty terminating U.S. sovereignty over the Panama Canal despite congressional opposition which is likely to prevail.

"Overtures are being made to Cuba in which our Government appears ready to make UNILATERAL (emphasis mine) concessions to Castro thereby rejecting the Monroe Doctrine and accepting Soviet penetration of the Western Hemisphere."

George Washington in his Farewell Address advised that "It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliance with any portion of the foreign world," but that all "engagements be observed in their genuine sense."

Vice President Rockefeller has on several occasions stated that he supports Secretary of State Kissinger's various announcements that we should follow the determinations of the Organization of American States on these vital matters.

Soviet Russia has long been determined to wrest from the United States the strategically vital U.S. canal at Panama and our naval base, Guantanamo Bay Cuba, also vital to our defense.

President Ford in his Commencement Address at the University of Pennsylvania on May 18 exhorted us to rededicate ourselves to the principles on the basis of which our country was founded, emphasizing the goal of our forefathers to "provide for the national defense" saying: "But the national will that saw the struggle (American Revolution) through its successful conclusion was better expressed by the patriotic farmer who said, as he picked up his musket, 'We'll see who is going to own this farm.'"

Which is it to be Mr. President: Will you fulfill your assurance that you will approve no treaty that "would not protect our vital interests?" Will you protect us from the loss of our vital naval base at Guantanamo Bay Cuba? Or, were your assurances mere lip service to our "nation's goals" and will you instead support the Rockefeller-Kissinger proposals in these vital matters?

All Americans should let President Ford and their representatives in Congress know of their wishes without delay.

Wallace Ignored

To the Editor:

In St. Louis on May 30, 1975 on radio station KMOX at about 1:30 in the afternoon there was an open line program with a guest expert whose name we understood to be Jean Heller, who is Washington correspondent for the Cox newspapers. When she was asked if the the Democrats would nominate Ted Kennedy for President in 1976. Her answer was something like this: If the convention gets deadlocked she thinks Kennedy would accept a draft. She said the Democratic Party doesn't seem to have any strong candidate, Ullman can't seem to get a following, Jackson keeps losing his following; so the Democrats will just naturally turn to Kennedy as a strong candidate.

This shows how uninformed these people are, how could anyone get a job as a Washington correspondent who had not heard of George Wallace?

Maybe they think if they ignore him that Wallace will just dry up and blow away.

Many thanks for running the fine advertisement for me (A-Acclaimed Cabinet Co.) at a very reasonable fee in the CITIZENS INFORMER.

I have already received two calls for estimates as a result. Once again, many thanks.

Jay-Bird Politicians

To the Editor:

All these politicians who keep bad-mouthing George Wallace reminds me of a bunch of jay-birds that have just discovered a cat-squirrel in their private acorn tree. They don't know what to do about him, so they just flit around and "squawk", and hope they can make enough hysterical sounds to cause him to go away.

Remember Mistakes

Dear Editor:

The Free World keeps on losing nations and the Communist World keeps on gaining Captive Nations, as the Free World lost and the Communist World took Cambodia and South Vietnam, as the Free World is losing Portugal and Laos and the Communists are taking Portugal and Laos.

Why? George Santayana long ago explained that "those who do not learn from the mistakes of history are condemned to repeat them."

So remember Vietnam, remember Cuba, remember China, remember Latvia, remember Hungary, remember Lithuania, remember Czechoslovakia, remember Estonia and so on; then maybe we can learn the mistakes before we have to remember what happened to the United States of America.

Have you ever wondered what happened to those men who signed the Declaration of Independence?

Five signers were captured by the British as traitors, and tortured before they died. Twelve had their homes ransacked and burned. Two lost their sons in the Revolutionary Army; another had two sons captured. Nine of the 56 fought and died from wounds or the hardships of the Revolutionary War.

What kind of men were they? Twenty-four were lawyers and jurists. Eleven were merchants, nine were farmers and large plantation owners, men of means and well educated. But they signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well that the penalty would be death if they were captured. They signed and they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British navy. He sold his home and properties to pay his debts, and died in rags.

Thomas McKean was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family almost constantly. He served in Congress without pay, and his family was kept in hiding. His possessions were taken from him, and poverty was his reward.

Vandals or soldiers or both looted the properties of Ellery, Clymer, Hall, Walton, Gwinnett, Heyward, Rutledge, and Middleton. Francis Lewis had his home and properties destroyed. The enemy jailed his wife and she died within a few months.

At the Battle of Yorktown, Thomas Nelson, Jr. noted that the British General Cornwallis had taken over the Nelson home for his headquarters. The owner quietly urged General George Washington to open fire, which was done. The home was destroyed, and Nelson died bankrupt.

John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she was dying. Their 13 children fled for their lives. His fields and grist mill were laid waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves, returning home after the war to find his wife dead, his children vanished. A few weeks later he died from exhaustion and a broken heart. Morris and Livingston suffered similar fates.

Such were the stories and sacrifices of the American Revolution. These were not wild-eyed, rabble-rousing ruffians; they were soft-spoken men of means and education. They had security, but they valued liberty more. Standing tall, straight, and unwavering, they pledged: "For the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of the Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

They gave us an independent America! Can we keep it? —Christian Beacon
